

Our vision for reconciliation is for Aboriginal and non-Aboriginal people to be united in a common purpose – to ensure that Aboriginal children and young people in care have a strong sense of identity, and are connected to family, culture, community and Country.

Relationships

- Building strong relationships with Aboriginal partners
- Working together to support Aboriginal children and young people
- Bringing our stakeholders along with us on our reconciliation journey
- Standing against racism
- Celebrating National Reconciliation Week

Respect

- Valuing and celebrating Aboriginal cultures
- Increasing understanding about the impacts of the Stolen Generations
- Celebrating NAIDOC Week and Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Children's Day
- Providing culturally safe and responsive services for Aboriginal children and families

Opportunities

- Improving Aboriginal employment outcomes
- Investing in Aboriginal organisations
- Being led by Aboriginal children, young people and families in our decision making

Launch
